

To whom it may concern:

It was Paul and his team that first believed in our brand and helped us produce our first orders which at the time was hardly worth mentioning, Since then our company has grown and so have our business and relationship with RMR who still is our main manufacturer.

Working with RMR has truly been a pleasure, they are reliable and strive to maintain a high level of quality and service in all aspects - from patterns and grading to sampling and final production. They are experienced and knowledgeable in all categories both Men's and womenswear - from heavy outerwear to simple T-shirts and jersey.

Above all Paul and his team would go out of their way to meet deadlines.

We would highly recommend RMR to anyone looking for a reliable hardworking team to produce high quality garments.
